Job Description

This form summarises the purpose of the job and lists its key tasks. It is not a definitive list of all the tasks to be undertaken as those can be varied from time to time at the discretion of the School, in consultation with the postholder.

Job title: LSE Fellow in Economics (Band 6)

Department/Division: Economics          Accountable to: Head of Department

Job Summary

This LSE Fellowship is based in the Department of Economics.

The appointed person will contribute to teaching on the Department's courses with particular reference to those on BSc in Economics, and as required across our programmes. The successful candidate will also act as an academic mentor, and perform relevant assessment and student contact duties as required.

In addition to teaching, you may be asked to perform limited administrative tasks under the direction of the Head of Department. It is anticipated time will be allocated to professional development.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Contributing to the scholarship and intellectual life of the School by conducting teaching and research which will enhance the School's reputation as a research-led teaching institution, with appropriate mentoring from the Department.
- Fostering Departmental collegiality and fulfilling individual responsibilities as set out by the Head of Department and/or other senior colleagues.
- Supervising, teaching and examining undergraduate and masters level students through lectures, seminars, course work and tutorials.
- Identifying learning needs of students; helping to define learning objectives and to provide appropriate support.
- Acting as an academic mentor and providing pastoral care.
- Supervising students throughout the year and referring mentees to expert advisors where appropriate.
- Holding regular office hours for students on the course (at least 2 hours per week).
- Providing formative and summative feedback on assessments.
- Undertaking examination-related duties, such as exam and dissertation marking, as required.
- Participating in regular teaching meetings, with academics and administrators involved in the course, with appropriate mentoring.
- Managing academic administration arising from teaching responsibilities – e.g. class preparation and marking, with guidance as required.

Flexibility
To deliver services effectively, a degree of flexibility may be required in the duties performed in order to meet the demands of service. Job roles may also naturally develop over time and ongoing substantial changes to a role will be discussed between line managers and their staff, with job descriptions updated as and when appropriate.

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI)
LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university. All posts (and post holders) will seek to ensure diversity and inclusion, while opposing all forms of unlawful and unfair discrimination on the grounds of age, disability, gender identity, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation, or social and economic background.

Ethics Code
Posts (and post holders) are assumed to have a responsibility to act in accordance with the School's Ethics Code and to promote the principles and values that the Code enshrines. The Ethics Code clearly states that the whole LSE community, including all staff, students, and governors of LSE, are expected to act in accordance with the principles which are set out in the Code. As such you are required to read and familiarise yourself with it. The School's Effective Behaviours Framework is designed to support this Code.  It sets out examples for the six behaviours that all staff are expected to demonstrate, these can be found on the following link: click here

Environmental Sustainability
The post holder is required to minimise environmental impact in the performance of the role, and actively contribute to the delivery of the LSE Environmental Policy.
