

Person Specification

This form lists the essential and desirable requirements needed in order to do the job.

Applicants will be shortlisted solely on the extent to which they meet these requirements.

Job title: LSE Fellow in Environment

Department/Centre/Institute: Geography & Environment Accountable to: Head of Department

Competency	E/D
Completed or close to completing a PhD in environmental geography, political ecology, environmental policy, or a related field	E
Very good knowledge of relevant fields of the environmental social sciences, such as environmental geography, environmental policy & politics, political ecology, environment & development, environmental science & public policy	E
A developing research record in the environmental social sciences, human geography and/or political ecology broadly defined, including intersections with: environmental and climate justice; environmental politics; race, gender, and indigenous studies; and environmental policy and governance	E
Excellent communication and presentation skills	E
Relevant teaching and assessment experience at undergraduate or postgraduate level	E
The ability to work in close partnership with fellow teachers, including on a one-to-one basis and in small groups, and to provide effective support, as necessary	E
A commitment to foster an engaging and supportive learning environment	E
A familiarity with, and commitment to, critical reflection and diversity in teaching (e.g., curriculum decolonisation, student-centred learning).	E
A commitment to work as part of a team in assisting the smooth running of the Department's teaching programmes, particularly in the Environment Cluster	E
Excellent administrative skills	E

A desire to contribute actively to the intellectual community of the Department and School, including but not limited to participation in the Human Geography collective seminars and associated activities	E
An ambition to pursue career development in research and teaching	E
Interest in and/or experience of innovative teaching methods	D
Experience of supervising Master's students	D
Willingness to contribute to virtual learning environments (e.g., Moodle)	D

E – Essential: requirements without which the job could not be done.

D – Desirable: requirements that would enable the candidate to perform the job well.