

Person Specification

This form lists the essential and desirable requirements needed in order to do the job.

Applicants will be shortlisted solely on the extent to which they meet these requirements.

Job title: Assistant Professor in Health and International Development

Department: International Development

Accountable to: Head of Department

Requirements	E/D
1. Research
Expertise and research interests in health and international development in a developing country or countries with a focus on climate change and health, conflict and health, foreign investment or trade and health, migration and health, the politics of global health, and other related areas	E
A completed PhD, or close to obtaining a PhD, by the post start date in September 2019 from a social science discipline such as Politics, Development Studies, International Relations, Sociology, Anthropology, Geography, or related subjects	E
A track record or trajectory of internationally excellent publications	E
Proven ability, as evidenced by existing publications, or potential to publish in top journals or with leading academic book publishers	E
A clear, well developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that has the potential to result in internationally recognized publications	E
Ability to attract external funding	D
Ability to undertake research that has impact and ability to engage in knowledge exchange	E
Ability to establish an international reputation in health and international development	E
Willingness to engage in collaborative research with other members of the Department, and with related research centres and disciplines.	E

2. Teaching

Ability to teach health and international development at MSc and PhD levels	E
Experience in teaching health and international development at MSc and PhD levels	D
A proven commitment to high quality teaching and fostering a positive learning environment for students, including pastoral care	E
Teaching-related administrative experience	D

3. Other

A commitment to work as part of a team in assisting the smooth running of the Department and its teaching programmes	E
Excellent written and oral communication skills, including an ability to place one's specialist work within a broader social science context	E
Evidence of innovation or creativity in research and teaching	D

E – Essential: Requirements without which the job could not be done.

D – Desirable: Requirements that would enable the candidate to perform the job well.