

Person Specification

This form lists the essential and desirable requirements needed in order to do the job.

Applicants will be shortlisted solely on the extent to which they meet these requirements.

Job title: Research Fellow

Department/Division: Economic History

Accountable to: Prof Mary Morgan

Competency	Criteria	E/D
Website competency	Ability to create and develop a website for the project and to curate materials from the rest of the team in the website.	E
Locating materials and record keeping	Ability to locate materials for the website, maintain an effective mode of record keeping, so that materials found during research by team members can be abstracted for curation into the project's website-'library' and easily re-locate once curated.	E
Research background applicable to a project on narrative science and its curation.	A PhD in a relevant field: history of science, narrative studies, digital humanities, science communication, or another closely related field; Or research experience and record that demonstrate the capability to produce independent original research about the narratives of science writing and its analysis.	E
Writing	Ability to write effectively both for academic audiences in the scholar's field, and for broader audiences within academia and beyond about the work of the project.	E
Spoken communication	Ability to communicate effectively in spoken forms about their research and the work of the project.	E
Organisational and management skills	Ability to concentrate own research efforts to further the aims and effective performance of the project and work to deadlines to achieve its aims. Ability to take responsibility in organising joint events: workshops, conferences, seminars etc. Ability to support the PI in maintaining relevant records for the grant, organise grant reporting, etc	E

Interpersonal skills	Ability and willingness to work as part of a team with the PI Professor Morgan and the Research Officers, and students/faculty in the Department who may join the team. Willingness to participate in all the activities of the project including public engagement work. Willingness to help train and manage research assistants attached to the project	E
----------------------	--	---

E – Essential: requirements without which the job could not be done.

D – Desirable: requirements that would enable the candidate to perform the job well.