

Person Specification

This form lists the essential and desirable requirements needed in order to do the job.

Applicants will be shortlisted solely on the extent to which they meet these requirements.

Job title: LSE Fellow
Department: Department of Social Policy Accountable to: Head of Department

Requirements	E/D
A completed, or very nearly completed, PhD in social policy or a related area by the post start date.	E
Experience of teaching at undergraduate or postgraduate level.	E
Ability to teach core social policy courses at undergraduate and postgraduate level drawing on international/global perspectives.	E
A commitment to high quality teaching and to fostering a positive learning environment for students, including with regard to pastoral care.	E
Excellent written and oral communication skills, including the ability to place one's specialist work within a broader social science context.	E
Ability to work closely with academic and professional services staff, including on a one-on-one basis, and to provide effective support, as necessary.	E
Research interests in social and public policy.	E
Potential to produce internationally excellent publications.	E
A commitment to equality and diversity.	E
Experience of leading or contributing to the development of new courses at undergraduate or postgraduate level.	D
Teaching-related administrative experience, including working with virtual learning environments (eg Moodle).	D
Teaching or research experience related to middle- or low-income countries.	D

E – Essential: Requirements without which the job could not be done.

D – Desirable: Requirements that would enable the candidate to perform the job well.