You will be expected to maintain your own research programme and to contribute to the Department's research seminars & meetings.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Contributing to the scholarship and intellectual life of the School by conducting teaching and research which will enhance the School's reputation as a research-led teaching institution, with appropriate mentoring from department.
- Supervising, teaching and examining undergraduate and masters level students through lectures, seminars, course work and tutorial.
- Identifying learning needs of students; helping to define learning objectives and to provide appropriate support.
- Acting as a personal tutor and providing pastoral care.
- Supervising personal tutees for their end of year dissertation, participating in dissertation workshops throughout the year and referring supervisees to expert advisors where appropriate.
- Holding regular office hours for students on the course (at least 2 hours per week), including reading week.
- Providing formative and summative feedback on assessments.
- Undertaking examination-related duties, such as exam and dissertation marking, as required.
- Participating in regular teaching meetings, with academics and administrators involved in the course, with appropriate mentoring.
- Managing academic administration arising from teaching responsibilities – e.g. class preparation and marking, with guidance as required.

Flexibility
To deliver services effectively, a degree of flexibility may be required in the duties performed in order to meet the demands of service. Job roles may also naturally develop over time and ongoing substantial changes to a role will be discussed between line managers and their staff, with job descriptions updated as and when appropriate.

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI)
LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university. All posts (and post holders) will seek to ensure diversity and inclusion, while opposing all forms of unlawful and unfair discrimination on the grounds of age, disability, gender identity, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation, or social and economic background.

Ethics Code
Posts (and post holders) are assumed to have a responsibility to act in accordance with the School's Ethics Code and to promote the principles and values that the Code enshrines. The Ethics Code clearly states that the whole LSE community, including all staff, students, and governors of LSE, are expected to act in accordance with the principles which are set out in the Code. As such you are required to read and familiarise yourself with it. The School's Effective Behaviours Framework is designed to support this Code. It sets out examples for the six behaviours that all staff are expected to demonstrate, these can be found on the following link: click here

Environmental Sustainability
The post holder is required to minimise environmental impact in the performance of the role, and actively contribute to the delivery of the LSE Environmental Policy.
