

Job Description

This form summarises the purpose of the job and lists its key tasks. It is not a definitive list of all the tasks to be undertaken as those can be varied from time to time at the discretion of the School, in consultation with the postholder.

Job title: LSE Fellow in Gender and Peace and Security

Department/Centre/Institute: Gender Studies Accountable to: Head of Department

Job Summary

This LSE Fellowship is based in the Department of Gender Studies.

The person appointed to this fixed-term, career development post will contribute to the delivery of core teaching for students following the MSc Gender, Peace and Security and will lead seminars on our core MSc course, Gender Theories, as well as other teaching as required across our programmes. The successful candidate will also supervise dissertations, act as an academic mentor, and perform relevant assessment and student contact duties as required.

In addition to postgraduate teaching, you will be required to perform limited administrative tasks under the direction of the head of department.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Contributing to the scholarship and intellectual life of the School by conducting teaching and research which will enhance the School's reputation as a research-led teaching institution, with appropriate mentoring from department.
- Supervising, teaching and examining masters-level students through lectures, seminars, course work and tutorials.
- Identifying learning needs of students; helping to define learning objectives and to provide appropriate support.
- Acting as an academic mentor and providing pastoral care.
- Supervising academic mentees for their end of year dissertation, participating in dissertation workshops throughout the year and referring supervisees to expert advisors where appropriate.
- Holding regular office hours for students on the course (at least 2 hours per week).
- Providing formative and summative feedback on assessments.
- Undertaking examination-related duties, such as exam and dissertation marking, as required.
- Participating in regular teaching meetings, with academics and administrators involved in the course, with appropriate mentoring.
- Managing academic administration arising from teaching responsibilities – e.g. class preparation and marking, with guidance as required.

Note

The LSE has a progressive pay structure that rewards you with annual pay increases up to a certain level as you develop in your role. We also provide for further reward past this point in the form of further pay increases based on exceptional performance.

Flexibility

To deliver services effectively, a degree of flexibility is needed, and the post holder may be required to perform work not specifically referred to above.

Equality and Diversity

To uphold the School's commitment to equality of respect and opportunity, as set out in the Ethics Code, we will treat all people with dignity and respect, and ensure that no one will be treated less favourably because of their role at the School, age, sex, disability, gender identity, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, or social and economic background. For the full Equity, Diversity and Inclusion policy statement, please see the EDI website.

Environmental Sustainability

The post holder is required to minimise environmental impact in the performance of the role, and actively contribute to the delivery of the LSE Environmental Policy.